Innovations in Timber and Design by Richard Maddock from Foster + Partners London

Join Richard Maddock from Foster + Partners as he discusses Innovations in Timber and Design employed by their practice across a variety of projects.

Richard Maddock is an architect and engineer. He holds a degree in Computer Systems Engineering from the University of Tasmania, and for a dozen years wrote software for companies such as Porsche, IBM, ANZ and CSIRO. After helping his parents build a new house and factory for their business, he turned his attention to architecture, receiving a Master of Architecture from The University of Melbourne. In 2014, he joined Foster + Partners in London as a member of the Specialist Modelling Group, where he is an Associate.
