

Design Forum – Six Degrees Architects – Peter Malatt

Peter Malatt is an architect and one of the founding directors of Six Degrees, with over 25 years experience in the industry. He has been project leader for many of the large institutional projects completed by Six Degrees, including UTAS Schools of Architecture and Fine Furniture, MTC and various University of Melbourne projects, along with the award winning 6 Star Greenstar Western BACE 6 star Greenstar rated Western Business Accelerator and Centre for Excellence. In 2013 Peter was elected President of the AIA Victorian Chapter.

“six degrees must be an innovative caring business that extends the boundaries of both ‘work’ and design. As an entity it must be low key, yet ambitious, disciplined yet flexible. It must be prolific and successful, success measured by the good relations we have with all the people we deal with. It will transcend the ego of the architect because it is a democratic, business, friendship.” six degrees mission statement.
