

BOARD OF ARCHITECTS OF TASMANIA

STRATEGIC PLAN

Board of Architects of Tasmania

2018-2021

Board of Architects of Tasmania (the Board)

The Board of Architects of Tasmania (the Board) is a self-funded statutory body established to administer the Architects Act 1929 (the Act).

The Board is a member of the Architects Accreditation Council of Australia (AACA) which is a national body made up of registration boards in each State and Territory of Australia. The AACA sets and reviews the National Standard of Competency for Architects.

The Board is also involved with the accreditation of aspects of the Architecture and Design Discipline at the University of Tasmania.

Charter

The Board's Charter as prescribed in legislation is to provide for the registration of architects and to regulate the practice of architecture.

The Board administers its undertaking through the following:

1. Protect consumers of architectural services by requiring architects registered in Tasmania to provide services to the public in a professional and competent manner
2. Require that only architectural practitioners registered by the Board describe themselves as architects, or a derivative of the term
3. Inform the public about the qualifications and competence of individuals or organisations holding themselves out as architects
4. Determine standards for the registration of architects in Tasmania
5. Provide advice to the Minister with respect to any matter in connection with the administration of the Architects Act
6. Investigate complaints against architects and take appropriate action
7. Maintain the Register of Architects

Regulation and the Public Interest

The regulation of the title “Architect” and associated registration requirements promote the public interest by:

- providing a formal structure supported by legislation that ensures consumers use only registered architects and do not inadvertently hire non-architects
- imposing minimum training requirements and rules of conduct – thus raising the quality of architects which, in turn, generates benefits for consumers and the wider community, including improving the quality of the built environment and Australia’s cultural legacy
- promoting Australia’s exports of architectural services and education
- facilitating mutual recognition of architects Australia-wide and via the Architects Accreditation Council of Australia negotiating international agreements.
